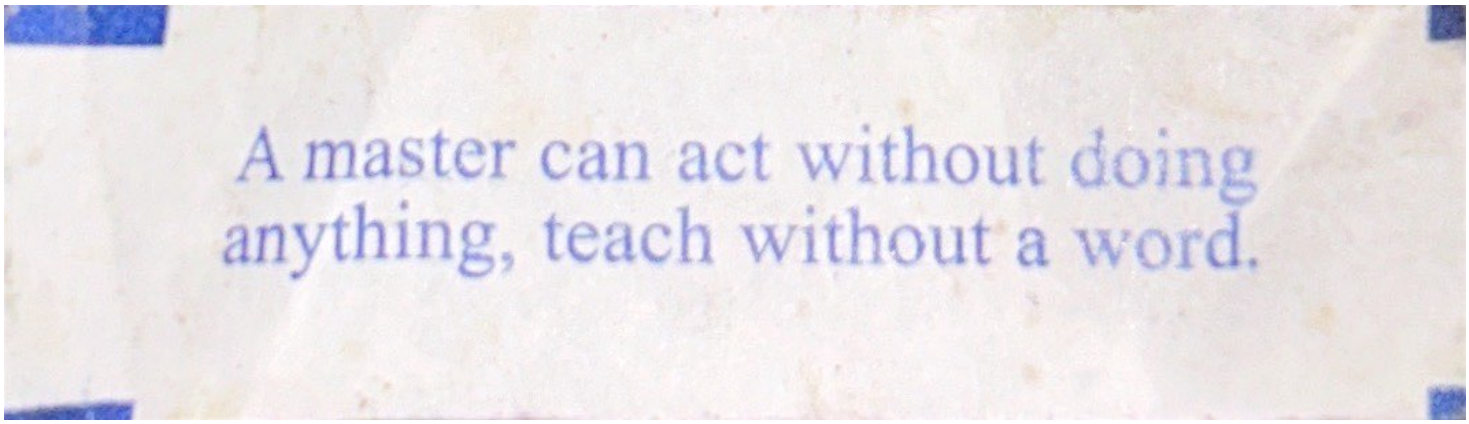
A master can act without doing
anything, teach without a word.



A master can act without doing
anything, teach without a word.